d. The amounts shown as charges to training include the costs of the Office of Training and costs of external training. These total [REDACTED] for 1979. Not included in this figure are such amounts as operating components may spend for in-house training in operational specialities. These are relatively small amounts and are in the nature of on-the-job training and are therefore not budgeted under the heading of training. Here also, Fellenbaum seemed to understand and be satisfied.
